Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

THURSDAY, OCT. 23, 1890.

Our usual editorial matter is crowded out in order to give space to the latest summary of volcano notes, for distribution abroad, describing the present state of the crater.

As will be seen by reference to our legislative report, a resolution for a vote of want of confidence was introduced into the House this morning by Representative Bush. The resolution recites that as the present Ministry have laid no tangible policy or platform of principles before the country, and as their official policy thus far has displayed a vacillating character, therefore, the Legislature should no longer place confidence in them. Only three or four members had expressed themselves up to noon to-day, all of whom were in favor of the resolution. As we go to press the question is still before the House.

ABOUT THAT CENSUS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

While thanking you for giving my humble personality the honors of an editorial in your esteemed publication, on the census question, I trust you will impartially allow me space enough for a correction.

I did not say in the Legislature that "the whole civilized world would take their censuses this year." I said that "the International Statistical Congress held in St. Petersburg and Paris, had decided that it would be of universal advantage to induce all the Governments of the whole civilized world, to take their official censuses on the same year, viz., at the end of every decade. And it is a fact that all the important governments having adhered in principle to this sound request, they are gradually all falling in for its practical adoption, so that more censuses will be held this year than ever before at any one time, and there can be no doubt that, in the end, there will be a universal census operation, just as there is a universal postal union, thus making it an excellent opportunity for our little Hawaii to follow suit. I did not, however, "ignore" the fact that "some" English colonies take their censuses "in the years beginning decades," but I could also give here the names of many other English colonies, in which the census is taken at random dates, and if the matter did interest you, I would be most happy to put at your disposition, a copy of "Kochlin's Statistics of the Globe" (1889), in which are found the dates of answers, not only of all the English colonies, large and small, but also of all the States of the Globe, which perform that statistical operation, including our great neighbor, the United States.

Finally, I did move the postponement of the Census Bill in the House, but I did not (and could not) move that the "Hawaiian census be abandoned altogether," and I am glad to inform your readers, on the authority of His Excellency the Minister of Interior that, in next December, according to the old law, our census will be taken as usual by the Board of Education.

THE VOLCANO

A Wonderful State of Activity.

Grand Sight for Tourists and Residents.

An Increasing Basin of Unquenchable Fire.

The latest news and photographs from the volcano, supplemented with reliable stories of eye-witnesses, testify that Hawaii's natural wonder is probably at present the greatest volcanic phenomenon in the entire world. Much has been written and many views and paintings have been made of the volcano, but nothing heretofore comes near equalling the present increasing state of frightful and continued activity.

Halemauau is surrounded by a depressed circumference of about two and a half miles of intermittent activity. It is within this radius that many late visitors have thought they discovered new lakes, when in fact they were deceived by appearances. Blow holes are constantly forming around Halemauau—at one time thirteen were counted by Mr. J. J. Williams of Honolulu—which discharge an intermittent stream of limited lava. This discharge is caught upon the thin shell of lava formed over the surface of a hell of fire, and consequently only partially cooling forms a temporary lake-like pulsation by the terrible heat beneath. But as soon as the center of activity shifts the tableland sinks into the crust and the supposed new lake melts away. But it is not here that the real center of volcanic activity exists; nor does the historic Halemauau exhibit the same state of red-hot displacement that is exhibited in Dana Lake, is the real center of disturbance. As all know, this lake is situated somewhat to the west of Halemauau and has for a long time been gradually becoming a more noticeable feature of the volcano, and while, as around Halemauau, the cooling floor is in a constant state of change and increasing activity, Dana Lake is at all times in a fury storm of molten ebullition beyond word description, beyond painter's brush, beyond even the literal exactness of the photographer's camera.

A dim outline, however, has been given of this great natural phenomenon by a series of most wonderful pictures now being developed at Williams' Art Gallery in Honolulu. A series of five exposures, made as rapidly as the plates could be exchanged, show some of the wonderful and unparalleled changes which are momentarily going on. In this lake a hundred fiery fountains, ranging from fifteen to forty feet in height, are in constant play and change. The lake is surrounded by a levee formed by the constant play of the fire fountains which deposit the lava in shreds and masses. This levee is a wall of black, glistening lava, which at night, as fresh lava falls upon it, flashes into a fiery bankmark, marking the entire circumference of the lake.

The usual scene of volcanic action has been the gradual breaking up and reforming of centers of activity while now the entire depression of two and a half miles in circumference mentioned, containing both Halemauau and Dana Lake as centers of greatest activity, is in a constant and increasing state of frightful and unexampled commotion. The trail across the original floor of the crater is, however, in no danger and tourists are enabled to get one of the best views possible of the volcano. There is great danger on the floor of the lower depression and some of the incidents related by Mr. Williams, who has furnished the data for this short sketch, are full of thrilling adventure.

Many tourists have visited the volcano since the present state of wonderful activity began and from all accounts, and by a judicious interpretation of historic analogies of former times, it is believed that the center of disturbance will be largely increased and continued for many months. Many tourists from America and elsewhere will doubtless take advantage of the present season for seeing a sight which may never again occur in the present decade and which will probably not occur until the end of the next.

From a distributing Reservoir with a capacity of 500,000 gallons, at an elevation of 100 feet above sea level, water has been laid along Lehua Avenue to the Pearl City Depot in a 6-inch Cast Iron Pipe, from which water will be supplied by the Company at Government rates.

The Company will bind itself in the Deeds to carry purchasers and their families and servants by rail between

Honolulu & Pearl City

At 1 Cent Per Mile, 2d Class

— AND —

1 1-2 Cents Per Mile, 1st Class.

During a term of 9 years from the date of purchase.

These special Rates of Fare will be transferable with the property during the term named in the Original Deed. Trains will always be run for reasonable accommodation of residents at Pearl City. Trains will reach Honolulu at 6:45 and 8:45 and 11:50 a. m., leave Honolulu for Pearl City at 7:15 and 9:15 and 11:15 a. m., and 1:45 and 4:45 and 5:15 to 5:30 p. m., subject however to such changes as may be from time to time found necessary for the convenience of the public or business interests of the company. Evening Trains will also be run whenever there is a reasonable demand.

BEAUTIFUL VIEW!

Those desiring lots where the most charming view can be had from the balconies of cottages or mansions can obtain lots fronting on Lehua, Maile or Woodlawn Avenues; this is a most charming location for residences, as all agree who have taken the trouble to walk up Lehua Avenue above the Ewa Court House. As a healthy resort, a better situation cannot be found. To assist settlers, the following easy terms are offered:

One-Third in Cash,
One-Third in 3 years,
One-Third in 5 years,

With interest at 7 Per Cent.

Thus making it possible for the most limited income to procure a fine healthy residence. Distance is annihilated by railway communication, so that people living at Pearl City will reach Honolulu in less time than it takes to come from Waikiki by the ordinary means of travel, while the expense for a person will not be more than five cents per day greater than the present cost of travel to Waikiki by Tramway.

Now is your time to procure

Homestead & Business Lots at PEARL CITY

At Prices lower than they can ever be bought in the future.

Don't Let Your Opportunity Slip

If you do you will live to quote the "blind sight" sayings we so often hear from people who had a chance to buy the whole of Koloakuhia Plains for a song, but they didn't! A word to the wise is sufficient.

Maps of the Lots can be seen at the offices of the Pacific Hardware Co., Hawaiian News Co., and T. G. Thurman's, and at any Salesroom, Honolulu, where all further information can be obtained.
